BRYAN NAMED.

The Populists Nominate Him On Their Ticket.

MAY NOT ACCEPT THE HONOR

On Account of Sewell Being Turned Down—Wild and Woolly Scenes Witnessed in the Convention Saturday. Hours of Nominating Talk—A Woman Makes a Nominating Speech.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—Amid such scenes of disorder as have characterized every national political convention this year the Populists yesterday nominated William T. Bryan for President and adjourned sine die. That is, a portion adjourned.

The warlike and factious Texans, aided by a few other rebellious states, about 300 in number, but without any conspicuous leader among them all, remained in their seats and acted as if they had not heard Chairman Allen's announcement of adjournment. While the other thousand odd delegates scrambled to get away from the intolerable heat and confusion of the badly battered hall, the disgruntled ones from the south, the notorious "Middle of the Road" faction, which had been the disturber of proceedings ever since the convention met Wednesday, remained behind and continued among themselves the scenes of wrangling and disorderly conduct which had made their name a by-word among the more reputable and order-loving delegates.

Their action, had not the convention adjourned, might have been construed as a bolt without a walkout, but under the circumstances they were simply dissatisfied with results and were brewing trouble.

Bryan's Nomination.
The enthusiasm attending the nomination, despite the emphatic protest that he would not accept without his running mate, Arthur Sewell, whom the Populists had displaced with a man of their own choice, Thomas Watson, of Georgia, was on a scale almost equalling that at Chicago. The trend of events early in the day indicated his nomination, the anti having apparently shot their bolt and expended their strength in the victory of the day before. There were cheers and hurrahs for the Nebraska champion of silver at short intervals from the very beginning of the day's session until it culminated in his nomination several hours later, following the really eloquent address of General Weaver and an unusual sight of a woman making the main seconding effort.

Perhaps the most remarkable scene was that following the appearance of the limitation cross of gold with its crown of thorns, bringing forcibly to mind Mr. Bryan's dramatic utterance at Chicago. As it was carried forward to the stage, desperate efforts were made by the Middle of the Road men to spot its progress, and many exciting and ludicrous incidents followed, the most amusing of which was the loss, by Sergeant-at-Arms McDowell, of a portion of indispensable attire, and in the temporary dispossession of which he sought refuge from curious eyes behind the friendly shelter of a state's guidon. The confusion and uproar interspersed with jeers of derision from the opposition, which were almost drowned out by the cheers and yells of the victorious Populists, singing of patriotic songs and marches and counter-marches up and down the aisles, continued for about twenty minutes.

Other Incidents of the Day.

There were plenty of other and exciting incidents, sufficient to make the closing day of the Populist convention one of the liveliest of any national political gathering.

Delegate Vallette, the irrepressible man from Rhode Island, did not profit by his experience of yesterday. He again essayed to raise a disturbance to-day, but was ejected with more force and energy than the circumstances really demanded. The last heard of the New England disturber was an oath as the skirt of his frock coat disappeared out of the front entrance. He did not return.

Another incident fraught with dramatic interest of a far different sort was the appearance of Governor Stone, of Missouri, and Tom Patterson, of Denver, and their efforts to be heard during the roll call of the states. They claimed to be the bearers of an important telegram from Nominee Bryan, but Chairman Allen refused to hear them or to interrupt the roll call. He interjected some remark about the telegram being a "fake," and Messrs. Stone and Patterson retired discomfited and dejected.

Just before the nominations were closed the following telegram was shouted from the platform by the man with the fog-horn:

Messages Sent and Received.
"TERRE HAUTE, July 25.—Hon. Henry D. Floyd, delegate People's party convention, St. Louis: Please do not permit use of my name for nomination."
—E. V. JONES.

Shortly afterward Delegate Marion M. Williams, one of the most conservative "Middle of the Road" Texans, who was willing to withdraw his opposition to Bryan, announced that he had sent a telegram to the Democratic nominee at Lincoln, and he read the following copy: "Hon. W. J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.: Will you accept nomination for President of the United States on the platform that the People's party have adopted here in St. Louis? Marion M. Williams, delegate-at-large from Texas."

At the hour of adjournment he had not received any answer, nor, indeed, had he heard from Mr. Bryan at the time this message was filed.

How to Obtain Fusion.

None of the wisecracks to-night pretend to predict with certainty what the result will be. Whether a fusion can be arranged or upon what basis is, of course, speculated upon. Whether Mr. Bryan will decline the nomination is canvassed. The shrewdest of the political observers and those who are the most anxious for the union of the silver forces can see this result only in the withdrawal of one of the vice presidential candidates. It is strongly intimated that Watson may be induced to withdraw in the interest of such a union. It should be said, however, that this is intimated by those who wish it most. By conferring upon the national Populist committee plenary powers, those who are so earnestly striving for an actual consolidation of the strength of the silver forces, created the machinery by which any sort of terms can be arranged.

Another of the remarkable incidents of the convention was the adoption of a motion, on suggestion of Chairman Allen, conferring upon the national committee plenary powers—all the power, as the motion stated, of the convention itself. Some of the radicals picked up their ears when the motion was put and there was a vague protest, but it is certain that the rank and file of the convention did not realize the full importance of the resolution. This action may prove the key by which the complications attending the desired union of the silver forces may be unlocked.

A DEMOCRAT

Who Cannot Support Bryan and the Populist Ticket.
St. Clairsville Chronicle: For many years John H. Heaton, as editor of the Gazette, labored to instill Democracy into the people of Belmont county. But whatever Democracy was in those days it did not stand for repudiation. Neither did the party pose as the champion of unbridled license to engage in riots and destroy property. John H. Heaton has passed from earth, but what he taught still lives. His son, Park A. Heaton, in a letter to a relative, thus states the situation as a Democrat:

"But with all that, I cannot conscientiously support Mr. Bryan. I do not agree with him in his financial views and believe it will eventually result, if such a measure should be enforced, in the greatest disaster this country ever had. Furthermore, I can not endorse a convention that would vilify a man like Mr. Cleveland—a man whom I firmly believe had the interests of the whole people at heart in every movement. I am a Cleveland Democrat. I know that Mr. Bryan's delegate walked out of the straight Democratic convention at Omaha and endorsed Mr. Holcomb, Populist candidate for governor. The old line Democrats nominated Mr. Sturdevant. Mr. Holcomb was elected. I always looked upon Bryan as a Populist Democrat holding views that would be detrimental to the country if put into effect. I do not consider myself supporting any Democratic principle, neither do I acknowledge leaving the old Democratic party, when I refuse to support Mr. Bryan. I think from the present outlook that McKinley has plain sailing and should win with 'hands down.' Yet, there may be another party ticket in the field to which the sound money Democrats would flock, while free silver Republicans would support Bryan. As it stands to-day, without another Democratic ticket in the field, I believe McKinley will get three Democrats to Bryan's one free silver Republican. Bryan will not get all the Populist vote, unless the convention at St. Louis endorses him. I can't stand the Tillman, Altgeld free-eating gang and am truly sorry they got such a hold on the convention, which fact is disgraceful to the party. The party, as a whole, should not be censured or condemned for the acts of the convention. PARK A. HEATON."

As Mr. Heaton views the matter so do hundreds of other Democrats. The present fight is not one of Republicanism against Democracy. It is honesty against repudiation.

AN UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL.

From the Democrat, Atlanta, Texas:
"Being constantly asked by many of my friends if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were doing me any good, I offer this unsolicited testimonial and answer. Never having seen a well day since I had typhoid fever last summer, I could retain scarcely any food, my limbs and joints ached and pained all the time. It was misery to me to rise up in bed and my mind was clouded, in fact was a physical wreck and I felt that my life was drawing to a close, and I must confess it was without regret on my part as my sufferings were almost unbearable."

"Since I commenced to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, at the solicitation of my wife, I have taken four boxes, and I feel like a new man. My appetite is good and I now retain what I eat, my limbs and joints are free of pain and I gained ten pounds in weight. My life feels renewed and while not yet entirely well, I feel so much better that I unhesitatingly assert that I believe Pink Pills for Pale People a good medicine for what they are recommended. Knowing that no medicine will save life under all circumstances or in all cases, yet I do honestly believe that they have prolonged mine, or at least, where all was dark and gloomy and full of suffering it has been changed for the better."

"The manufacturers of this medicine do not know of my taking it. Neither am I paid for this statement, but give it freely in answer to friends and the editor of this paper."
(Signed) JOHN BAUGRESS,
Atlanta, Texas.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 27th day of March, 1896.

R. M. BLAYDES, Notary Public.
Regarding the above testimonial of John Baugress, I beg to say that no man stands higher for honesty and veracity in all this section than John Baugress.
W. H. WRIGHT,
Editor and proprietor of the Democrat, Atlanta, Texas.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Chilly and Cruel Advice.

New York Sun, (Dem.): Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, objects to the frequency of the Hon. William Jennings Bryan's communication to the public, and avers that the young man's "proper course now is to remain silent and bottle up some of the personal joy he feels at being selected as the candidate of his party." This is chilly and cruel advice to give to a young declaimer who would not that the air should cease to be tremulous with his sounds. Having watched the Populist thinkers at Chicago with the symmetry of his countenance and the music of his voice, why should he deprive the rest of the world of the benefit of his chief qualifications? To be sure, he seems to need two or three years to get one of his declamations into condition, but what of that? He must have practice. He will not be grateful to Mr. Faulkner for trying to deprive him of it.

On the Right Side.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 25.—Dr. Truman Core, a prominent and influential surgeon of this place has come out on the side of sound money and protection. He belongs to a family that have always stood on the Democratic ticket, but with that independence which characterizes him has cast his political fortunes with the Republicans. His action will doubtless exert a powerful influence over the younger element of Democracy amongst whom he is held in high esteem.

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.
